To whom it may concern:

I have been a luxury high end custom builder for over 25 years. One of the items that is a main feature of high end homes is a low voltage system of audio/visual equipment. This is a market that is constantly changing and evolving quickly.

My company and myself, personally, has worked with Rod Jones for over 18 years. He has excellent knowledge of AV equipment- ranging from various price points and from individual needs as the home dictates. He has worked well with my clients including following up on warranty and service.

I highly recommend Rod and his company, AV Modern.

Sincerely,

Ginger Ragsdale, G. Ragsdale Builders, LLC
